

TRAVELLING TO THE NORTHERN TERRITORY?

Hotels and resorts
can provide a one stop location for a relaxing holiday.

Here are a few recommendations to keep you and your property safe.

Be sure to lock your balcony and front
doors each time you
leave your room.

Use a safe (if provided) to lock your valuables up when leaving your room.

Park your car in well
lit areas near your room or the front
office.

Consider your own
portable door lock with an alarm as additional peace of mind.

Memorise the address of where you're staying and if it's near any landmarks.
Areas and buildings can look different at night.

Caravan or camping holidays are popular and common, and staying in a Caravan Park can often be more social.

But you should always remember to remain vigilant about your surrounds and safety.

Lock your doors every time you leave the caravan and secure belongings at night.

Double check your (other) vehicle is also locked and that no valuables are visible.

When enjoying your van's area, keep your gear close by or lock it up.

Make sure you have enough gas and water for your stay or know where to purchase.

Get to know your travelling neighbours. Introduce yourself to people staying next to you.

If taking expensive items such as drones, laptops, iPads – make sure they're insured and that your receipts and rego numbers are well documented.
